We do this by:

- Executing Title 10 and Title 32 United States Code directives, to include organizing, equipping, and training for the conduct of prompt and sustained combat operations on land.

- Accomplishing missions assigned by the President, Secretary of Defense and combatant commanders, and Transforming for the future.

The U.S. Army Theme

Our Army is at war with nearly 50 percent of its forces engaged in combat. We will continue to be so for the foreseeable future.

Our Army is a proud member of the Joint Force expertly serving our nation and its citizens as we continuously strive toward new goals and improve performance.

The Soldier, his training, readiness, and welfare is central to all we do.

Our individual and organizational approach to our duties and tasks must reflect the seriousness and sense of urgency characteristic of an Army at war. Our Soldiers and our nation deserve nothing less.

We are at war.

America's Army

Meeting the Challenges of Today & Tomorrow

Today's Army is being called upon for an even greater number, and greater variety, of missions. Since 1989, operational deployments have increased more than 300 percent, and the soldier in an operational unit today spends an average of 165 days a year away from home and family (Pre-ONE/OEF/OIF).
